

Do not weaken the no call list law! People are smart enough to figure out how to contact a company they have stopped doing business with if they want to. If I stop doing business with a company, it means I do not want to hear from them again. All of us are bombarded daily with the marketing of services and material goods and I'm really sick of it, and I'm not alone. It's inescapable, and it's not what is most important in life. I make it a point NEVER to purchase goods or services from anyone who calls me directly on the phone, and you can pass that on to the business lobbyists who want to change this law.
